FOTO	 The photograph shows a river or stream flowing through a field of tall grasses. The water is clear and reflects the sky. The grasses are dry and yellowish-brown, suggesting a late autumn or winter setting. The date '11-9-2004' is visible in the bottom right corner of the photo.
